AUSTRIANS ENTERED LUBLIN FRIDAY—BREAK IN RUSSIAN LINES

AUSTRIAN CAPTURE OF LUBLIN INDICATES THAT THERE HAS BEEN A BREAK IN RUSSIAN LINES OF COMMUNICATION, SOUTH OF WARSAW.

Von Buelow Continues to Drive Toward Warsaw From the North to Cut the Only Other Line of Railway for the Retreat of the Russian Armies at Warsaw—Eight Hundred Thousand Inhabitants of the City are Fleeing with Such Articles as They Can Carry With Them—Germans Add to Perils of Russian Retreat by Crossing the Vistula Between Warsaw and Ivangorod—Geneva Says Private Dispatches Say that German Aviators Report Russian Troops Are Abandoning Warsaw.

Vienna, July 31.—The war office announces that Austrian cavalry entered Lublin Friday afternoon.

German Grip Tightens
London, July 31.—The Austrian capture of Lublin tightens the German grip on the Lublin-Chelm railway and indicates that it is possible that the Russian lines have been broken south of Warsaw.

Meanwhile, von Buelow continues to drive from the north to cut off the Russians' other railway line of retreat.

Warsaw's eight hundred thousand inhabitants are fleeing with such articles as they can carry with them. The Germans have added to the Russian armies' perils in retreat by crossing the Vistula between Warsaw and Ivangorod.

Troops Leaving Warsaw.
Geneva, July 31.—Private dispatches say that German aviators report the Russian troops are now abandoning Warsaw.

Liner Iberian Submerged
London, July 31.—A German submarine sank the Leland liner Iberian. Five of the crew were killed and two others died aboard a rescue boat. Sixty-one landed safely. The five killed aboard the Iberian were victims of shell fire and the other two died of injuries. After shelling the vessel, the submarine torpedoed her.

The Iberian was a 5,000-ton steamer. She sailed from Boston for Manchester and made the trip safely, although a submarine chased her then. Four of her crew were said to be Americans.

One American Killed
Washington, D. C., July 31.—Only one American was killed when the Iberian was sunk. He was a muleteer named Whyley. The Iberian disregarded the submarine's warning to stop. The German commander later gave her crew time to take to the boats before firing the torpedo. Whyley died from the shock of shell wounds. It is probable that no American communications will be involved because the Iberian disregarded the warning.

To Protect Property
London, July 31.—It is reported that the Grand Duke Nicholas decrees that property in Warsaw shall be destroyed unless military necessity compels it. The government will indemnify the owners for such property as it destroys.

Four Trawlers Sunk

Matson, an assistant attorney general, has not definitely answered this question, but he referred the inquiry to a section of the law that designates the turtle dove as a game bird and also to the fact that there is no open season prescribed for this bird, therefore drawing the conclusion that it will be unlawful to shoot the turtle dove at any time in Oklahoma.

MOTORMAN HELD UP AT POINT OF GUN

RELIEVED OF FIFTEEN DOLLARS NORTH OF CITY NEAR LORENA PARK LATE FRIDAY NIGHT AS HE WAS ON LAST RUN.

Friday night, as the last car operated over the line of the Ardmore Traction company approached the second turn between the switch and Lorena park, a lone highwayman boarded it, and at the point of a gun relieved the motorman, who also acts as motorman, of all money in his possession, amounting to about fifteen dollars. Riding on the car at the time was one passenger, Millard Winfrey, who was also compelled to elevate his hands, but the highwayman did not disturb any of his possessions.

The motorman, Percy Babbington, and the passenger, Winfrey, were compelled to leave the car and walk up the track a short distance while the highwayman kept them covered with a gun. After ordering them to stop he made a hasty getaway, and Babbington and Winfrey returned to town and reported the case to the officers.

The highwayman was masked and well dressed, according to statements of Babbington. Neither he nor Winfrey recognized him or ever remembered seeing a person answering his description. The officers are on the case and believe they have a clue as to the identity of the robber.

CANADA IS MOURNING

Out of an Army of 30,000 Only 400 Survive.

Judge R. A. Hefner who was on the Shriners' special which spent several days in Canada, says, at Victoria, B. C., they were informed that 30,000 Canadian troops had left that city for the front and that out of that number 29,600 had been slain in battle. As many as 250 surgeons were at Victoria, ready to leave for service in the hospitals when the Shriners were there. At Winnipeg a carnival was being held to raise funds to help Great Britain. Canada is despondent over the situation and while it feels that England and the allies will be victorious in the end, that it will be a long war and a very desperate one.

WILL BREAK ATTENDANCE RECORD TODAY

FREE THEATRE TICKETS WILL ATTRACT ADDED NUMBERS TO SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF THE CITY THIS MORNING.

"How many children will miss going to Sunday school this morning?" That is a question that Mayor Mullen and the proprietors of the picture shows will have answered some time during the coming week.

The mayor has issued tickets to every superintendent of Sunday schools in the city, to be given to all children under fourteen years of age who attend any of the Sunday schools this morning. These tickets will admit the bearer to any one of the picture shows at one of the matinees the coming week. This is a unique method of getting the children out to Sunday school, and while Ardmore has always been noted for the large attendance at the various churches on Sunday morning, it is expected that all records for attendance will be broken this morning.

There are no restrictions. All that is necessary is that any child under fourteen years of age attend Sunday school, and the ticket will be issued freely. An immense number have been printed, and if the supply runs out the superintendents will issue written orders that will pass in lieu of a ticket.

Mayor Mullen is a friend of the "kids." He is now encouraging them to do their duty as attendants at Sunday school, and giving them a good time as well. No doubt there will be very few who will not accept his offer this morning.

BLACK LYNCHED BY TEMPLE MOB

TEMPLE QUIET AGAIN YESTERDAY, AFTER LYNCHING OF WILL STANLEY EARLY SATURDAY.

TWO OTHERS RELEASED

Two Other Blacks Held by Police, Were Released and Passed Taylor Yesterday, "Going Fast." Someone Near Taylor Shot at Them.

Temple, Texas, July 31.—This city is quiet today following the burning at the stake last night of a negro giving his name as Will Stanley, wearing Grimes' trousers and suspected of the hammer murders.

The burned remains, hanging to the chamber of commerce electric street sign, were cut down this forenoon.

Two other negro suspects were released by the police. They were seen at Taylor today, fifty miles south, "and going fast." Some one near Taylor shot at them. The negroes here are following their usual occupations today undisturbed.

The mob which lynched Stanley is estimated to have numbered ten thousand. He was marched through the principal business streets in full view of the populace, which included many women, some of the latter standing on men's shoulders to witness the gruesome sight.

All along the route the negro fought savagely and was kicked and beaten by the mob. Arriving on the square, a pyre was constructed of dry goods boxes, barrels and other inflammable stuff secured in rear of business houses, in nearby alleys. Trace chains were used to shackle the negro.

Accosted by a citizen of Temple and urged to talk, the negro said in substance: "I am guilty just as much as the others, but I didn't do no killing. I held the horse while Slim, the yellow nigger went in the house and did the killing. We were hired to do it by a white man, a little low, heavy set fellow with a dun horse and a good buggy."

"Wait until tomorrow and I will take you to the white man and point him out, for I know him when I see him."

Scarcely had he uttered these words when the citizen referred to pushed back the encroaching flames and tried to call a halt, but the mob was beyond the control of its leader.

A shot rang out and simultaneously hundreds of hands seemed to push the doomed black into the fire. Six times he leaped from the fire, and as many times was he shoved back. On the last attempt he struggled no more, and life was soon extinct. As the fire died down there were volunteers to bring more fuel and this has been kept up all through the night.

After the negro ceased to struggle the crowd began to disperse, although many expressed intentions of remaining through the night.

The crime for which Stanley was lynched was the most brutal in the state's history since the Edna murder in Jackson county several years ago.

W. R. Grimes and his wife were found in their beds at their home one mile east of Temple, Thursday morning by a neighbor, suffering from wounds in the head inflicted with a hammer. Three small children of the Grimes' had been killed by their murderous assailant. Grimes and his wife are still suffering from the blows, but it is believed they will recover.

The Weekly Ardmoreite reaches the farmer.
